

The Centers for Family Change's Institute for Clinical Development & Training

is pleased to announce the fall offering for our:

Half Day Professional Seminar Series

Ethics: Applying Ethical Principles to Practice

Questions about ethical practice often take us by surprise. A routine situation can suddenly become fraught with ethical dilemmas. This seminar explores ethical issues that frequently confront psychologists, social workers and counselors in private practice, school and agency settings. Examples of common issues include: balancing institutional demands with clinical responsibilities, and managing the ethical challenges that occur in high-risk situations where the duty to warn may come into play.

Speakers and Topic Areas:

An Ounce of Prevention: An Overview of Ethics and Strategies for Integrating Ethical Principles into Daily Practice

Peter Perrotta, PhD

Ethics across clinical and practice settings: Challenges to clinicians working in school and other agency settings

Martha Cook, MSW, LCSW, LMFT

When: Tuesday March 10th, 2009, 12pm-3pm
(registration and box lunch pick up 11:30-12pm)

Where: 2901 Butterfield Road, southeast corner of Butterfield and Meyers. First floor conference room.
Go to: www.centersforfamilychange.com for directions.

Cost: $25.00, includes 3 CEU's & box lunch.
To register: call 630 586-9991 or email us at cffcfamily@sbcglobal.net. Send payment to: Centers for Family Change, 2907 Butterfield Rd., St 240 Oakbrook, IL
60523.